

Amazon Announces That The Grand Tour Has Been Renewed... And Fans Can Expect Even More of Jeremy, Richard & James on Prime Video for Years To Come

December 13, 2018

Amazon confirms that The Grand Tour will return to Prime Video, following the upcoming third season premiering 18th January 2019

Jeremy Clarkson, Richard Hammond, James May and Executive Producer Andy Wilman also enter into deal with Amazon to develop additional TV series for Prime Video

LONDON – 13 December, 2019: Season three of The Grand Tour launches on 18th January, 2019, exclusively worldwide on Prime Video. Amazon today announced that the Prime Original worldwide hit TV series The Grand Tour has been renewed. The Grand Tour series four will see Clarkson, Hammond & May ditch the tent and take on big adventure road trips that fans around the world love.

"The Grand Tour is a worldwide hit and fan favourite," said Jay Marine, Vice President of Prime Video. "We're delighted the guys are coming back for series four to make more of The Grand Tour exclusively for our Prime Video members."

In addition, Amazon today announced that they have entered into a deal with Jeremy, Richard, James and Andy to develop brand new TV shows with them individually, which will see more of the popular presenters on Prime Video in the coming years.

"We're proud to say that Prime Video will continue to be the home for Jeremy, Richard and James," added Jay Marine. "They've got some ambitious new ideas that Prime members are going to love; we're excited to bring more Clarkson, Hammond and May to Prime Video for years to come."

Ends.